

ABSTRACT

A cooking vessel grip has an elongated, one-piece body made of plastic material and having, at a first end, a connecting portion for connection to a cooking vessel;
5 and the body has, internally, a longitudinal cavity extending at least along a portion gripped in use.

Figure 1